

Chris Thomas Update - 24th August 2012

A few people have asked for an update. Unfortunately there is not a huge amount to say at the moment.

Over the last 20 years, we have seen an increase in the frequencies and types of energies that are available to us. These energies have come from the sun's increased activities as well as new energies coming from outside of our solar system. There are also new energies arriving from the centre of the galaxy which have been gradually growing in strength for a few years and which will reach their peak frequencies during December.

In addition to all of these energy sources, there is also a new energy at work which is designed to help clear up a few "loose ends" that humans have not been able to clear for ourselves. These loose ends are things like the continuing Velon attacks on the Earth and people and the Velon attempts to mislead us into believing things that are not in our benefit. The success of this energy is mirrored in the way in which people are now rejecting concepts like "Angels", Ashtar Command, the "healing" ship Neptune etc, that the Velon have been trying to make people follow. Instead of which people are now seeing beyond these misleading concepts and looking for the underlying truth to what is happening as well as realising that humans are responsible for ourselves, nobody is going to step in and do the work for us.

But the main focus of these new energies is to break the power structures that have been holding us back - this is the work of the "Illuminati".

The main source of the Illuminati power-base is to do with money and how it is controlled. By controlling the money supply, they control people. By keeping people in poverty - wage-slaves - they control the way in which people think and act. This pattern of control needs to be broken to allow us all to open our minds to other possibilities and to move on to soul re-integration.

We have seen how shaky the financial system actually is over recent years with the deliberate manipulation of mortgage insurance. Fortunately, this deliberate attempt at impoverishing ordinary people did not work as well as the Illuminati would have liked and it has caused a lot of damage to the banks despite the Federal Reserve "rewarding" banks with several trillions of dollars for their part in the scam.

What this new energy is doing is to push the unstable foundations of the banks a little further than the banks intended. The result of this is that the banking system is currently in a state of meltdown. This meltdown has not reached the mainstream media yet but it is happening.

I would suggest that people try to have some kind of cash reserves at home, enough for a couple of weeks, as the meltdown continues as we should start to see the failure of some banks over the next couple of weeks. However, there is no need to panic, whilst some banks will inevitably collapse and close their doors, this should not last for very long as other banks, that remain in business, take up the slack. But it does mean that the whole banking system will need to be re-structured and so it is likely that over the next few months cash will be in short supply. Given all of the current indications (there are many reports on the internet), this should not last beyond September but there is no way of predicting how bad the crash will be or how long it will take to readjust the system.

Other than that, most things are fairly quiet at the moment.

We have successfully raised our energy frequencies to reach frequency parity with the Earth - at 3.5 KHz - and have begun to reject all of the Velon ploys at misleading us. So this current time is one of clearance on deep levels as well as consolidation of our new energies. Once the banking situation becomes clearer, we will be able to move on to even more personal clearances and taking on new energies that will move us forwards to full soul re-integration later on this year.

Everything is happening as it should be. Everything is happening in its correct time frame (albeit a little later than originally intended) and everything is moving forwards on its intended path.

I hope this helps but if people want more detail, and some help in working more closely with their higher self, can I suggest my book Synthesis which was specifically written for this time (available from Cygnus Books but not Amazon).
