Introduction

The Galaxy Song¹

*Whenever life gets you down, Mrs Brown
And things seem hard or tough
And people are stupid, obnoxious or daft
And feel that you've had quite enough*

*Just remember that you're standing on a planet
That's evolving and revolving at nine hundred miles an hour
It's orbiting at ninety miles a second, so it's reckoned
A sun that is the source of all our power*

*The sun, and you and me, and all the stars that we can see
Are moving at a million miles a day
In an outer spiral arm at forty thousand miles an hour
Of the galaxy we call the Milky Way*

*Our galaxy itself contains a hundred billion stars
It's a hundred thousand light years side to side
It bulges in the middle to sixteen light years thick
But out by us it's just three thousand light years wide*

*We're thirty thousand light years from galactic central point
We go round every two hundred million years
And our galaxy is only one of millions and billions
In this amazing and expanding universe*

*The universe itself keeps on expanding and expanding
In all of the directions it can whizz
As fast as it can go, the speed of light you know
Twelve million miles a minute
And that's the fastest speed there is*

*So remember when you're feeling very small and insecure
How amazingly unlikely is your birth
And pray that there is intelligent life somewhere out in space
Because there's bugger all down here on Earth*

I have included Eric Idle's "Galaxy Song"¹ for the same reasons that I used it as the frontispiece for "The Human Soul" published back in 2007. The reason is to show, in a non-serious way, how little we really understand about our Universe, our solar system, the Earth and ourselves.

Humans have become so focused down onto the minutiae of our day-to-day lives that we forget that we have a greater purpose beyond being a "wage slave".

The other main problem we seem to have developed over the past few years is that we only see the world around us in very small "bites" – if it isn't immediately in front of us on our computer screen, we don't consider it and, as soon as we change the web site, we have forgotten what we read on the last web page. We seem to have forgotten all about context and history.

Mr Idle's little ditty also highlights another problem we have – we see ourselves as being very small and this makes us insecure. Added to which are the determined efforts by the "Elite" to keep us in a permanent state of fear so that we only think about our lives in reference to whatever is currently making us afraid.

Given that we do not understand who and what we actually are, how we are deliberately kept in a state of fear and we do not remember what our true place is within this Universe, is it any wonder that people have begun to look for help from beings and places beyond our solar system?

The line in the song: "And pray that there is intelligent life somewhere out in space..." seems to have caught a great many people's interest and they are looking to other races to come in and save them from themselves.

However, the Velon, and all of their misleading disguises, should not be seen as being "intelligent life".

If we properly understood ourselves and our place in current Universal history, we would know absolutely that we have all of the information and the tools we need already with us here on Earth.

We already have everything we need to solve our problems as part of our fundamental make up – we have just forgotten that we are so much more than we have been propagandised into believing.

The Situation Since 1996

December 21st 2012 was a critical day in a series of recent critical days that began in 1996.

To try and re-tell our history, as recorded in the Akashic, at this point would be pointless – this is fully covered in my books.

But, some historic connections need to be made in order to explain the significance of 1996 and the critical days that followed up to the present.

To understand the present, you have to place it into its historical context otherwise what is happening now cannot be understood properly.

The Earth revolves on its own axis.

The Earth orbits around the Sun.

The Sun travels around its own orbit, travelling at 200 Km/hr.

On its orbit, the Sun travels through many regions of our galaxy and, every 26,250 years, the Sun aligns with the center of the galaxy.

With this galactic alignment, comes a new burst of energy that can be used to rejuvenate the energies within our solar system if the planetary consciuousnesses choose to so do.

This 26,250 year cycle is the one referred to in the ancient calendar systems – the most well known of which is the Mayan Calendar.

We began to enter the central galactic energy stream a few years ago but the energies, as far as their potential influence is concerned, reached its peak between the 29th of October 2011 and the 21st of December 2012.

This is why these dates have significance. This is why human plans (The Human Plan) were timed to reach their conclusions at this time – to take maximum advantage of the fresh energies arriving from the galaxy center. This is the Mayan “6th Sun”.

As far as the Akashic is concerned, we humans needed to be ready to take advantage of these new energies in order to complete the process of soul re-integration – the merging of the “higher self” back into the physical body so that we once again became “Human Beings”.

Every single person on the planet was aware of the potential offered by these new energies, it was supposed to have been a simple matter of being ready to re-integrate.

In 1996, as a precursor to our achieving re-integration, a new energy source was connected to the Earth.

This new energy was designed to help people make their final adjustments in preparation for the end of The Human Plan as well as to provide a new “clean” energy source for the planet’s own use.

This new energy was successfully connected and the Earth prepared Herself for the coming change of levels of human consciousness.

The Earth completed Her part of the work required and left humans to resolve their own situations, making their own use of the new energies.

This 1996 energy was entirely separate from the new galactic energies as they were designed specifically to help us to meet the “deadline” of 2011/2012.

The 1996 energies were connected at 5.30 pm on the 14th of August and sent a “pulse” of energy around the planet. This pulse did two jobs:

Firstly, it alerted everyone on the planet to the arrival of these energies.

Secondly, it triggered an ancient memory, buried in our DNA, that amounted to a question and the question was: “are you ready to undergo soul re-integration?”

To go into the detailed percentages of those who said they were ready and those who said they were not ready would be a little confusing as there has been a major drop in the human population since that day and so the percentages would be meaningless.

But, what can be said is that the majority of people said that they were not ready to undergo re-integration.

Since then, those who stated they were not ready have been leaving the planet (dying) and returning to their place of soul origin. This means that the global human population has dropped from its peak of about 7.4 billion in 1996 to about 3.8 billion in 2013, as some of those who chose not to re-integrate are no longer with us.

Since 1996, there have been other points where energies were re-balanced and other censuses taken, each census providing a more accurate figure of who was likely to re-integrate and those who would definitely not.

The problem with humans is that we tend to be over-optimistic when we are asked if we can achieve something and so, what we have seen since 1996 are percentage population figures that have proved to be misleading.

By misleading, I mean that when asked if a person was ready to undergo soul re-integration that person always said yes even though they had not completed sufficient clearance work to make themselves ready. This is certainly true of countries in the westernised world.

Those who live in non-westernised countries are a little more honest and realistic and where they said they were ready to re-integrate, they were.

The Recent Situation

When we arrived at the critical date of the 21st of December 2012, we found we had a problem: the vast majority of people living in westernised countries were very far from ready whilst those who live in non-westernised countries were.

In western countries the percentage was as low as 0.8 (zero point eight) percent of the country's population whereas in the non-western countries, the percentage was consistently 98 (ninety eight) percent.

Since then, the percentages in non-western countries has remained constant, at about 98 percent, whilst the percentage in western countries has not risen by any appreciable extent, and remained at around about 1 percent (the only exception is Britain where the percentage has risen from about 8 percent to about 11 percent).

As far as our goal of re-integrating the higher self back into the physical body is concerned, we only ever had two options:

Option 1: we cleared out our accumulation of emotional debris from our lives allowing space within our bodies to accommodate our higher self and we re-integrated on the 21st of December 2012.

If we had re-integrated on that day, we would have been able to sweep aside all of the problems that we had been experiencing under the influence of the Velon/Illuminati and we would have been able to begin our new existence almost immediately.

Option 2: we accepted that we had failed in our primary task and so we had to find our way to soul re-integration by doing it the hard way.

This means that instead of sweeping away all opposition in one fell swoop, we would have to unpick each and every single layer of the Velon/Illuminati plans and conspiracies one by one and deal with each before we can move on.

We missed option one and so, during the seven months since last December, we have been seeing the depths of the Velon/Illuminati plans opened up for inspection.

The revelations that are coming to light through to the middle of 2013 are astonishing – but they are set to get worse.

As we strip our way down to the truth of the conspiracy, more and more horrors will come to light.

This is doing things the hard way – the consequences of westerner inaction in action.

Those who live in non-westernised countries could have proceeded with their soul re-integration but chose to honour our collective agreement to re-integrate at the same time as everyone else on the planet.

It is sad to realise that if the percentages for readiness were reversed, those in the western world would have probably re-integrated without regard for the state of readiness of those in the non-westernised world and our collective agreement.

It would also be interesting to speculate on what the current state of the world would be had those in non-westernised countries completed re-integration without waiting for the rest of us to catch up. Certainly western plans for the total genocide of the inhabitants of all non-westernised countries would be stopped.

I also suspect that they would be doing everything they could to help those, in the west, who had missed the deadline to catch up as quickly as possible.

It is no good thinking that you could call on the people of non-westernised countries to help to lead you through your own clearance. The Velon/Illuminati also have access to the Akashic and know that we in the west are far more gullible and malleable than those in non-western countries. This is why Velon/Illuminati controlled organisations are currently vaccinating to death as many people as possible in non-western countries whilst at the same time engineering wars and civil unrest to kill off as many as possible of those who are ready to re-integrate.

The Current Situation

Humans, especially those in the west, have decided to proceed to soul re-integration but have chosen to do so the hard way.

It is no good trying to say that there was no choice.

Everyone on the planet was primed, back in 1996, to prepare for the coming completion of The Human Plan. Every human on the planet expressed their choice in this matter and every human on the planet was provided with ample free energy with which to work out their accumulated problems. People in the west failed to fulfill their choices and promises – effectively they made a choice to do virtually nothing, since 1996, to sort their lives out.

In fact, not only did so many people choose not to take responsibility for their lives and their choices, they demanded that beings from outside of our solar system came to their rescue.

The amount of channeled material that has been directed at people on Earth has risen exponentially since 1996 and people's refusal to take on the work that their individual choice required.

Even now, so many people are hoping that the "Aliens" who have promised so much actually do something to get them out of the mess they have created for themselves.

Is it any wonder that we have not moved on since the 21st of December 2012?

Not only are so many people still hoping that the "Aliens" will fulfill at least one of their broken promises but everyone appears to be totally shocked by the revelations coming about under the energies of the 6th Sun.

Everyone seems to have forgotten that human choices have led to us having to achieve soul re-integration the hard way.

Doing things the hard way means just that: we have to unravel all of the problems that have been misleading us and holding us back so when all of the information that is now coming to light is made public, people panic and become depressed.

Why? The release of this information should be making everyone happy as their choices are actually being fulfilled.

Over the past few months, we have begun to see many of the plans and schemes of the Velon controlled Illuminati coming to light.

- The control of governments by trans-national companies.
- The control over the media and how "news" is bent to manipulate our view of the world.
- The control of the financial system.
- The control of the security services.
- The control of the police.
- Paedophile rings at every level of government, the judiciary and the Vatican.
- Government actions proving that democracy is a complete sham.
- Civil unrest in many countries where the population is attempting to oust regimes that are not acting in the best interest of the electorate.
- "Global Warming" is a complete sham. Temperatures did rise from the end of the last mini-ice-age, that finished in 1850, but then stopped rising in 1996.
- There are no actual food shortages – even Britain dumps 30 million tonnes of edible food into landfill every year. Food shortages only arise because of government policies or the actions of trans-national companies promoting GM crops.

The list keeps on getting longer and longer with no end of these revelations in sight.

This is the energy of the 6th Sun in action – forcibly stripping away all that has been hidden.

This is not bad news.

This is good news.

All this stripping away of the old is happening because this is what people chose to do – to do things the hard way – and the energies for change are making it happen as rapidly as possible.

The grumbling and mumbling I hear from people about:

"I want to hear some good news"

"I am tired of hearing about corruption"

"I am depressed that we have not moved forwards"

"I am depressed that we haven't achieved soul re-integration"

"Are we ever going to achieve soul re-integration?"

On and on, complaints and whinging. And yet, this was the choice that people made.

This is the energy of the 6th Sun in action, sweeping away the old in order to make room for the new.

In order to achieve soul re-integration, each individual has to clear out all of their past emotional debris in order to make room for their higher self to enter the body.

By choosing to take things the hard way, this act of clearance has to happen on an individual level, a neighbourhood level, a county level, a country level and a global level.

This clearance is happening – you just have to see it for what it is – clearance leading to a new way of living, a new way of being.

A New Way of Living

I am often asked if I can describe the way in which we are likely to live once we have achieved soul re-integration.

It is something that is quite difficult to do, as we do not have the vocabulary to explain the sensations, senses and abilities that a full soul state brings about.

Can we still achieve a full soul state?

The answer is YES – we just have to wait a little longer than was first hoped.

I did try to describe how life could be once we re-integrate in "The Human Soul" and so here is an extract from that book.

Given that we could have achieved our aims between 2011 and 2012, the description in the book is set in 2111. This date does not have any particular relevance other than it was a future date that related to 2011 – it does not mean that we will have to wait until 2111 to achieve our aims.

“As you are gently awakened by the sound of birdsong, you arise from your night-time slumbers either in the house you have chosen to occupy or from your bed in the open air.

The sun-filled air is crisp and clear without the hint of pollution – all of the air, sea and fresh water pollution were psychically cleared years ago.

There is no rush, no work to go to, just a relaxing day spent with your friends or associates or just gently exploring the world around you.

You start to think about breakfast. In bowls around you are freshly picked and ripe fruits in abundance. These are all fruits you picked the day before.

Our need for large intakes of food has passed long ago and our diet is of a selection of fruits, nuts and berries that we gather from the abundant fruit trees all around us. There are also all of the vegetables you have planted and grown in your own garden.

The buildings of old are gradually crumbling away as nature once again reclaims the land from the concrete and the tarmac.

Once you have had your fill of your leisurely breakfast, you think about what to wear; certainly, you will not need much as the days are now comfortably warm and filled with sunshine. The rains only arrive occasionally and, instead of being cold and damp, are warm, gentle and refreshing. So the choice of clothing is more to reflect your mood than for a need to protect yourself against the elements.

There are no particular fashions, just whatever you choose from your wardrobe of garments you have fashioned yourself. Gone are the days of worrying about your figure as your body follows your natural form and energies and everyone accepts each other exactly as they are without comment or comparison.

The weather does not make too much difference to what we choose to wear, as we are capable of adjusting our bodies to whatever temperatures we happen to experience.

The northern hemisphere now has a sub-tropical climate with very settled weather patterns. The same is true for the southern hemisphere; settled and sub-tropical weather. It is only around the equator where the climate can reach extremes; both of high temperatures and tropical rainstorms.

Once dressed, you step out into the warm sunshine and gentle breeze. As you were getting dressed, you were thinking about where you would like to go today and whom you would like to share the day with. Once you have made up your mind, you send out a thought calling to a friend.

Communication is so much easier when all you have to do is think of someone specific and send them a greeting. Their reply is also psychic and you are able to discuss your plans from where you are and they can “talk” to you from wherever they are.

Your friend says that they need to gather some more fruit and you decide to join them on their quest. To meet your friend, you just think yourself by their side and take your body along with the thought.

But your friend wants a bigger adventure than just visiting their local trees, they want an exotic fruit that does not grow in the country where you are. Together, you psychically scout out some trees or bushes that are growing in that country and look for a place to “land” nearby. As you project your thoughts to your chosen landing place, you carry your body with you across the land and ocean to arrive next to your chosen fruits.

But, it is too nice a day to just “work” at picking fruit so you send out a psychic thought to see if there is anyone close by or are there any animals who are prepared to spend some time to join in and play.

All animals can be communicated with in the same psychic way as you communicated with your friend. All communication is possible when carried out psychically and, because you and the animals understand each other perfectly, there is no fear and no aggression; just enjoyment in each other’s company.

After a couple of hours of playing with three tiger cubs, you receive a psychic communication from your partner and five-year-old son who want you to go and join them. Your friend decides to travel back with you and so you thank the tiger cubs and their mother and begin to gather the fruit you went there for, psychically telling your partner that you will join them shortly.

In order to carry your gathered fruit, you both make carrying baskets from the woven leaves of the trees you are picking from. This is not a skill you needed to be taught, you just accessed the Akashic for the knowledge of how to make the baskets and “downloaded” the knowledge so that you wove a perfect basket at your first attempt. The same is true for any other skill that is required – it is just a question of accessing the information stored within the Akashic.

With your fruit gathering over, both you and your friend transport yourselves back . . .”

Sounds like a very pleasant lifestyle to me - how about you?

Contrast that style of living against the promises made by the likes of The Galactic Federation of Light, Ashtar Command, Ra, The Andromedan Council – what their channeled messages promise is a life somewhere away from the Earth, in an unspecified location, where you will “ascend” to a fifth dimension.

Given that very brief glimpse of our future life on Earth, why would any human want to go anywhere else?

The Earth is our home. The Earth is our birthright. Don't let anyone take it away from you.

The Problem

As has been said over and over again, the process of soul re-integration cannot be stopped – it is only a matter of when, not if.

There are almost three million people on the planet who have already achieved the state of soul re-integration and the vast majority of the populations of non-westernised countries are ready to make the shift.

This means that the problem lies with the populations of western countries.

Having analysed the current situation in as great a depth as I possibly can, one answer presents itself as the underlying cause – the Velon.

The Velon problem falls into two parts:

Part One: the Velon took over control of the Illuminati as they were forming as an organisation and have remained in control until the very recent past.

The Velon plans are to make the Earth their own. This has meant taking control, through the Illuminati and Bilderbergers, of all of the organisations that regulate and control the infrastructure of human life.

Although the Illuminati was taken over by human political types in recent years (see "Project Human Extinction"), their agenda remains the same and they still require Velon energy patterns to fulfill their plans of creating an "Elite" with a "slave" population of 500 million.

Part Two: the human population was largely unaware of the controlling work of the Illuminati until fairly recently - most are yet to catch up with the reality of Velon control.

Since 1996, and the connection of the new energies for change, everyone on the planet was aware that the time for change had arrived.

However, instead of embracing these new energies to complete their own soul re-integration, the majority of people in the western world looked away from the Earth to try and find someone who offered to save them from themselves – someone who could offer them a "free-ride".

Into this role stepped the Velon and all of the myriad of disguises they presented through their channeled messages.

Every channeled message received in at least the last 50 years has been from the Velon regardless of whom it was claimed the message was from. The Akashic is very clear on this.

The Velon promised that they would help people to "ascend" to a fifth dimension but in order to so do, we all must leave the planet so that the Earth could also be helped to "ascend" to a fifth dimension.

Has a single promise, made through these channeled messages, ever been kept? NO.

And yet I see that as we pass through 2013, the number of people who want these false promises to come about has not diminished – channeled lies are as popular as ever.

The energies of the 6th Sun are sweeping away the conspiracies of the Velon/Illuminati very rapidly. Every day we see new depths to their scheming, subterfuge and cruelty. So the first part of the Velon problem is being identified and dealt with.

However, the second part of the problem remains.

The Earth, Her guardians and others from outside of our solar system, are doing everything they can to evict the Velon from our galaxy and our Universe.

But, we live in a Universe of free choice and for as long as people on Earth freely choose to hold the Velon close to our planet; the actions of the Earth and Her guardians to evict them are very limited.

People, in the western world, need to wake up to the reality that nobody is going to step in and save us: we have to achieve our goals by ourselves.

Once we have, collectively, achieved soul re-integration, we can welcome in all of the other races with which we share our Universe, but until we have completed re-integration, they cannot act to help us nor can they show themselves openly.

Let's face it, if a flying saucer landed on the White House lawn, all of those who have looked to the channeled sources to save them, would look to these new visitors to save them instead.

Nobody can save us, nobody can step in and do the work humans need to do – we need to do this for ourselves or the whole of human existence, past, present and future becomes pointless.

When we have achieved our goal of re-integration, the other races are ready and willing to step in and help us with our adjustments to our new full-soul state – and they would be very welcome.

What we are faced with is a human problem that requires a human solution.

There is nobody "out there" that can solve this problem for us – there are no other humans in this, or any other universe. The Earth and human life are unique throughout the whole of Creation.

There are two reasons why there has not been full “disclosure” about UFO’s and other races. Firstly, the military want to keep all “alien” secrets to themselves.

Secondly, and by far the biggest reason, is that the other races do not want disclosure of their existence to be fully known as they are fully supportive of what is happening here on Earth, at this time, and they realise the magnitude of the events that humans are resolving but that it can only be resolved by humans. Their intervention at this time would not serve any useful purpose as far as soul re-integration is concerned.

The Future?

We missed our deadline but that does not mean that we have lost our chance at soul re-integration. What has changed is our ability to change everything in one single move – instead of clearing everything away on the 21st of December 2012, we now have to work with the energies of the 6th Sun and clear our problems one by one.

Although the scene, described above, of what life on Earth will be like in the future was set in 2111, it could just as easily have been set in 2015, 2020, 2030 and so on. We have not lost our ability to re-integrate, we have only delayed it.

At the moment, there is no definite date by which we must complete the job; that depends on how we handle the release of the information that the 6th Sun is bringing to light and how each individual works with the new energies.

Since the start of January 2013, everyone on the planet has been feeling under pressure to clear out their own past problems and emotional debris. Much of the complaining and whinging in recent months is not so much because of all of the bad news coming to light, but people realising that they still have clearance work to do on themselves and they are feeling the pressures that the 6th Sun is bringing.

The paradise life-style described above can be regained – this is, after all, how we lived our lives on Atlantis – we are returning full circle to the state of being we had at that time.

There are no right or wrong answers to the dilemmas we are all facing, individually and collectively, there are only your answers.

As each individual clears out the problems from their own lives, they add their energies to the process of re-integration. We are not only working with the energies of the 6th Sun, we are also working with the energies of those in the non-western world who are ready as well as the 3 million who have already completed. All of these energy sources are combining together to help us, in the western world, to achieve our goal.

There is no judgment of anybody in the west, just a sincere wish to help us overcome our difficulties so that we can all move forwards together and do so when the time is right.

The sooner we resolve and remove our past problems, the faster we will all be able to re-integrate.

The more we drag our feet, the more we prolong the agony.

But, however long we take to reach soul re-integration, reach it we will – of that there is absolutely no doubt.

The timing is up to you.

REMEMBER that you are a soul who has chosen to come to Earth to experience physical life. When you die, you re-merge with the rest of your higher self and can zoom around the Universe as you please.

But, whilst on Earth you are physical but you are still that soul with all of those capabilities.

The whole purpose of being on Earth is to find the way to bring all of your immense soul energies into the physical body.

Do you understand this at last?

Whenever life gets you down, Mrs Brown
And things seem hard or tough
And people are stupid, obnoxious or daft
And you feel that you’ve had quite enough.

Just remember that you’re standing . . .
